GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Republican State Convention.

CINCINNATI, June 12.—The following is the substance of resolutions offered by William Lampt and which were referred to the committee on resolutions [illegible]:

First—Ohio Republicans are in [illegible] to the investigation of frauds in the presidential election of 1876, but demand that all investigation be impartial and include all states where frauds are alleged to have been committed.

Second—The title of President Hayes [illegible] dispute or congressional [illegible] that the American people are opposed to the payment of all rebel claims.

Third—That we tender the prostrate [illegible] of the south, (many of whom [illegible] soldiers, are ostracized as carpet-baggers [illegible]) our earnest sympathy in their struggle for equal, political liberty and we will always [illegible] name of Gen. Grant for his patriotic efforts in behalf of southern Republicans.

The Republican state convention reassembled at 2 o'clock. Hon. William Lawrence was chosen permanent chairman. Judge Wm. White was nominated for judge of the supreme court, Milton Barnes for secretary of state, both by acclamation.

4 P. M.—George Paul was nominated for the board of public works. The committee on resolutions has not yet reported.

Death of Wm. Cullen Bryant.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Wm. Cullen Bryant died at 5:35 this morning.

Mr. Bryant, at 2 this morning experienced a sudden change for the worse and his breathing became heavy and stentorian. His daughter and granddaughter, Miss Godwin, John E. Graham and the doctors were summoned and remained with him till he died, soon after 5 o'clock. Some days ago one side of his body was paralyzed, and last night the other side was similarly stricken, and vitality was alone apparent in his head. His remains now repose in the library. The features look wonderfully lifelike and wear a tranquil and peaceful appearance. Mr. Bryant will be buried at Roslyn, L. I., beside his wife, as was his wish. His brother is expected from Illinois this evening.

Hanged.

CINCINNATI, June 12.—John Parker was hanged here to-day for the murder of George Franklin, in Somerset county, last March.

Presidential Tour.

WEST POINT, June 12.—The presidential party arrived at 11 A. M. on the government steamer Henry Smith, leaving cars at Jersey City, going directly to the boat at 6:40 this morning and taking luncheon on board. They were met at the wharf here by Maj. Gen. Schofield and other officers and a troop of cavalry and battalion of engineers.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The River and Harbor Bill.

The passage by the senate of the river and harbor appropriation bill to-day assures the final enactment of the following items which were adopted just as they came from the house, and thereby placed beyond the reach of any action at the hands of a committee of conference: Lower Willamette and Columbia rivers, $30,000; upper Willamette, $20,000; upper Columbia and Snake river, $20,000. The senate also adopted without amendment the house provision for surveys of Humboldt bay and Crescent City roadstead with a view to ascertaining their adaptability as harbors of refuge. The senate adopted the amendment increasing the house appropriation for the canal around the Cascades of the Columbia from $75,000 to $200,000 and inserting an item of $5,000 for the improvement of the mouth of the Columbia, and a provision was inserted at Grover's instance for a survey with a view to the improvement of Coos Bay.

The General Deficiency Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The unprecedented circumstance of the general deficiency bill being reported back to the senate from its committee on appropriations without any amendment whatever is due to the adroit management of owners of several million dollars of navy department claims which were inserted in the bill by the house against the opposition of the house committee on appropriations, and which would be imperiled by the return of the bill to that body.

Law Amended.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senate bill to amend the act of September 27, 1850, relating to the office of surveyor general of Oregon to provide for a survey and making donations to settlers of public lands in Oregon, and also the act amendatory thereof approved July 14, 1853, passed.

CANADA.

Great Riot in Quebec.

QUEBEC, June 12.—Strikers have been plundering Renaud's flour store in St. Paul street, stopping traffic in the street and forcing truck men to assist them in carrying off their plunder. B battery and the police are now dispersing the mob.

LATER.—The riot is on the increase and the strikers now number some thousand. B battery were forced to retreat, the riot act not having been read. The captain provost, and [illegible] and some others of the men are badly cut with stones. The mob have broken into Renaud's store and stolen therefrom nearly one thousand barrels of flour, compelling carters to take it away. The military are marching up and down St. Paul street attempting to disperse the mob, but without [illegible].

LATER.—The riot act has just been read and firing commenced. One man is reported killed and several wounded.

Bread or Blood.

QUEBEC, June 12.—In the bread riot to-day several rioters and spectators were wounded. Capt. Short, the provost, was badly cut with stones, and some bullets are also believed to have taken effect in his arms and legs. Two or three of the mob have received sabre cuts from the cavalry. Everything is now quiet. The rioters are dispersed and B battery is guarding the parliament house.

The Orangemen Propose to Parade.

MONTREAL, June 12.—The Orangemen of the city have resolved to celebrate the 12th of July by a procession to church. County and district masters have issued an address in which they say they intend to comply strictly with the law and go unarmed, play no party tunes in the streets and will trust themselves to the protection which the civic and other authorities afford all law abiding persons. If, however, they are made to know they are not allowed, any assistance they may receive from friends will not be refused. Speaking for the Orange body, they gladly join in celebrating all public procession except one distinctly Canadian.

THE POTTER INVESTIGATION.

A letter from Darrell to Anderson [illegible] was read saying [illegible] Matthews [illegible]

The following letter from Darrell to Anderson was read:

MY DEAR S——: I had an interview with M[illegible] this evening and [illegible]

[illegible]

Anderson had over Matthews and wanted to see [illegible] Matthews told witness that he had been informed that Tilden or his agents had made an offer for the papers and the New York Sun had a copy of them and also Senator Conkling had a copy. The New York Sun had copies in December and [illegible] November or December. [illegible] the 9th of April and showed [illegible] what letters he had from Matthews, etc. Matthews [illegible] witness he learned from a Democratic senator that these letters were offered to Tilden's managers and they refused them as being worthless. It was the only time that he and Matthews spoke about the letters. It was hardly fair to say that Matthews supposed that the letters should [illegible] when witness received the collectorship [illegible] occurred Anderson ought [illegible] and give up his claims [illegible]

[illegible]

Witness said Anderson had stated to him the document was signed by Sherman and Stoughton, but the copy witness saw was signed by Sherman only and was entirely different from what Anderson represented. Anderson had stated to witness that his parish was terrible, that no Republican was safe there, and mentioned names of prominent Republicans intimidated and unable to vote. Witness said Anderson when at home was much dissipated and although his reputation might be considered bad in the north it was considered good to fair in New Orleans.

Darrell was cross examined by Gen. Butler, who asked witness if he had intended to get into office through fear of the administration that these documents in the possession of a perjurer [illegible] and blackmailer would be published.

Witness replied he had not called Anderson that.

Q—Were you not surprised that so able a lawyer, so honorable a statesman and a U. S. senator would employ such a [illegible] as Anderson?

A—I can't say that I was surprised.

The Potter investigating committee resumed its sitting to-day, Morrison presiding.

Darrell, of Louisiana, was examined by [illegible]. He stated that he first saw Anderson [illegible] of 187[illegible] when he said the protest he had made was correct as regards [illegible]

Matthews Admits himself Gulled.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Wednesday's Tribune says: We print a dispatch from Columbus this morning which presents the most [illegible] theory of Senator Matthews' [illegible] to appear before the Potter committee and the one still to be held by Matthews' friends. It is [illegible] that Mr. Matthews is now conscious that he permitted Anderson to hoodwink and deceive him and that he is ashamed to make a frank confession of the [illegible]. This story [illegible] leaves little [illegible] that Anderson [illegible] Mr. Matthews' sympathy and afterwards used Mr. Matthews without the latter's [illegible] as a basis for working up the story which Anderson has since told before the Potter committee.

The Presidential Title Unassailable.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The [illegible] committee to afford Chairman [illegible] opportunity to prepare [illegible] adopted yesterday [illegible] agreed to postpone till Friday consideration of the report drafted by Hartridge and the accompanying resolution. Hartridge's report takes the ground that the presidential title is unassailable in congress or the courts, but [illegible] that wrongdoers may be exposed [illegible]

Perjury a Small Matter There.

Among the choice bits of epistolary literature brought to light by the Potter investigation is the following. In this letter the witness Anderson, contributes further laurels to his own character:

CUSTOM HOUSE, NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA,
COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, April [illegible] 187[illegible]

Hon. Stanley Matthews—DEAR SIR: Packard on Monday concluded that his only hope lay in his ability to frighten the president by a threatened exposure of rascality committed during the past campaign, and his agents have been at work since then endeavoring to collect evidence. He has sent for me three times [illegible] the past two days and yesterday two of his trusted friends [illegible] to induce me to go with them and they told me that the president could not [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] of a plan by which they claim they can bring him (the president) to terms, viz: three of the [illegible] on the Republican ticket will swear that they did not vote for Hayes but voted blank, that they did not [illegible] certificate that [illegible] being forged [illegible] commit perjury, but that is a small matter here. An intimation through the press that their designs were known and would be promptly met might deter them the [illegible] from making the attempt. I have posted General Harlan on the subject. In January the party holding the Eliza Pinkston agreement was requested to destroy it. He refused. He also refused to return it to me, but said he was willing to comply with their request. I deemed it best and it was burned to-day in my presence. I enclose the Weber agreement. This is the last piece of documentary evidence in existence. I will now have to trust entirely to you, as the ill-feeling borne me by the Republican leaders has been intensified by my refusal to aid them in their infamous scheme. Truly yours,

JAMES E. ANDERSON.

What Senator David Davis Thinks.

[From the Chicago Times.]

Senator David Davis considers that it is an egregious blunder of the Bourbon politicians to make the issue in the congressional elections next fall on the question of disturbing or not disturbing Hayes' title. Senator Davis is not peculiar in this particular. Most sensible people are of the opinion that the Bourbons could not have made a more egregious blunder if they had tried. They say—that is some of them say—that they have no intention to make such an issue. But they cannot prevent or avoid it. They have taken a course which leads directly up to that issue. [illegible] of anything they can say or do. They can no more turn or turn the consequences of their premises than they can change the constitution of human nature. They may cover the whole earth with protestations of what they do not intend, nevertheless men will believe that they intend the rational consequences of the premises upon which they set out to act.

Pennsylvania Democratic Convention—Significance of its Action.

[Washington Telegram to N. Y. Herald.]

The work of the Pennsylvania Democratic convention has greatly interested politicians of both parties here. Openly it was a battle between Speaker Randall and Senator Wallace in which Mr. Randall was beaten, but the initiated of both parties see in the nomination of Mr. Dill for governor another victory for the Camerons. Senator Cameron's term expires next March and it is understood here that Pennsylvania politics on both sides are now so arranged that he will be elected this winter, in which case Senator Wallace will also be re-elected two years later. Indiana Republicans and the "Greaser Insurrection."

The following utterances are from the platform adopted by the Indiana Republican convention held last week:

The cry of fraud in reference to the last presidential election is a disguise to conceal the illegal and forcible means by which voters in the southern states were intimidated and thousands in all the states were sought to be corrupted, and the unblushing manner in which the leaders of the Democratic party undertook to buy the votes of presidential electors with money proves them unworthy of the public confidence.

The denial of the title of President Hayes is an act of party desperation and the attempt to oust him from office is revolutionary resistance to law, and if it is not condemned by the people it will furnish a precedent by which any defeated party may issue its declaration in opposition to law, rally its supporters to acts of violence, plunge the country into anarchy and thus Mexicanize our [illegible] institutions.

The electoral commission was constitutionally created by the act and consent of the Democratic party in congress, and its decision subsequently confirmed by congress was final and conclusive upon every department of the government. There can be no appeal from it except by revolution. Its decision makes the title of President Hayes equal to that of any former president. We recognize in his personal integrity, as well as in the general course of his administration, the guarantee that he will conduct the government so as to preserve the honor and promote the happiness of the whole country. We solemnly pledge ourselves to support and maintain President Hayes and the lawfully constituted authorities of the government in resisting revolution.

The Modern Rifle.

[From Blackwood's Magazine.]

Beyond all contradiction the increased power of the defense is to be ascribed to the perfection of the modern rifle. Its long range, its accuracy, the rapidity with which it can be loaded have made it the most formidable weapon that ever was invented. Walls whose defenders are armed with it may be literally unapproachable by an enemy. Its fire is perfectly desolating. Nothing can live on the exterior slopes of works when they are swept by its bullets. The dogged courage of the Turks has been the means of demonstrating what modern rifles can do. We believe that in the attacks on the lines of Plevna on the czar's birthday everything that the bravest soldiers could do was done by the Russians in their endeavors to take the redoubts. Not only did they fail but hardly any of them (in some cases not a man) got away unwounded. It is worth remembering that it was in the darkness after the close of that eventful birthday that Skobeleff succeeded in getting into the Gravitza and the other two redoubts. One reason of his success was that the worn-out Turks, thinking the struggle over for the day, had, except a small guard, retired from the works. But we think that probably another reason may also be adduced—namely that the guard which was left on the alert could not see the enemy at a distance and therefore could not take aim. It is hardly too much to suppose that had there been any light to distinguish the assailants at a moderately long range, the men on duty could have checked the attack until their comrades could have returned to their posts. As a corollary on this observation we may remark that in future when assaults are given it will be absolutely necessary to return to the old practice of delivering them before daybreak. This practice not long ago was condemned, it being thought the risk which the stormers ran of missing their way or of making other mistakes in the darkness more than counterbalanced the advantage that might be gained by stealing unseen up to the scene of operations. THE SAME OLD QUESTION

It appears by a telegram from the agent at Fort Hall reservation that he has been unable to keep the Bannocks at that place because he had no supplies and it is stated also that no supplies could be furnished because of the smallness of the appropriation made by Congress This is the old story These Indians have gone off unquestionably and joined the war party and the government will expend more money in subduing them than needful appropriations would have amounted to for the balance of the century

Much attention has been directed to a paper on the treatment of the Indians read by Gen John Pope before the social science association at Cincinnati recently Like most army men Gen Pope manifestly thinks the management of Indian affairs should be transferred to the war department though he did not make any special plea in this behalf But he expressed the decided conviction that most of the Indian troubles could be traced to bad management of our treaty stipulations and he dwelt particularly on the anomalous and disagreeable service required of detachments of troops on Indian reservations where commanders are without authority to take any precautionary measures to prevent revolt or even to relieve the hungry and destitute from the public stores under their charge They are compelled to sit idly by while the Indians are being goaded to revolt until they leave their reservations or the agents call upon the military for assistance "In short" says Gen Pope, "it appears to be the only function of the army stationed near the Indian agencies to force the Indians to submit to suffering quietly and without disturbance whether the necessity results from the insufficiency of appropriations, bad management of the agent or actual fraud"

The soldiers Gen Pope well says are mostly interested in preserving peace with the Indian tribes No honors he observes "are to be won in Indian warfare, it means for the soldier long marches great danger and suffering and after all, harsh and unjust censure, whatever the result The truth of this last remark receives illustration from the Nez Perces war of last year While Gen Howard and his faithful soldiers were undergoing almost unparalleled hardships and privations in pursuit of Joseph and his band editors in the east sanctum soldiers sitting in easy chairs, criticised the campaign with as much complacency and self confidence as if they understood all the facts

Gen. Pope sketches a plan for keeping the Indians under better control, which is briefly this Instead of removing them repeatedly from one place to another in advance of the western settler he would have all the tribes gradually concentrated on a few reservations where they could be maintained, instructed and kept in order at less cost than dispersedly in many and remote localities, and with less danger of being dispossessed of property or rights by lawless men He thinks the Indians, so placed, would gradually become part of our population, or disappear utterly But probably we shall not deal with the subject otherwise than heretofore There has been no end of good suggestions, but no doubt we shall go on in the old blundering way till the Indian question in the west solves itself as it did years ago at the east The small remnants of Indians, surrounded by a dense white population disposed to do them justice and protect their rights will grow peaceable, and in time will lose all disposition to resort to violent or warlike acts But it will take time

DEATH OF BRYANT

The death of William Cullen Bryant closes the longest career in American literature He was born in Cummington, Mass, in 1794 In November next he would have completed his eighty-fourth year It might have been said of Bryant, as Pope said of himself that while yet a child he "lisped in numbers for the numbers came" Before he was ten years of age he contributed verses to his county gazette, and his "Embargo," a poetical satire and "The Spanish Revolution" were published in his fourteenth year At eighteen "Thanatopsis" was written and first published in 1817 in the North American Review Since then, during a period of more than sixty years, he has led an active literary life. As a journalist he has during many years produced a great impression on the thought of the country He first became connected with the New York Evening Post in 1826 Any remark upon this well known paper would be superfluous here A collected edition of his poems was first published in 1832 Irving, then in England, caused them to be reprinted there with a laudatory introduction from his own pen, which secured for Bryant a European reputation Subsequent editions including later poems, are numerous His translation of Homer does not appear so felicitous as his original poetry Like Cowper who executed the same task Bryant lacked some of the qualities necessary for such a work. His translation has clearness and dignity, but is wanting in rapidity and impetuous movement Among the most pleasing of all Bryant's works are his letters written during his several tours of Europe But much the greater part of all his work has appeared in the editorial columns of the Evening Post How exceptionally long his literary career has been will strike one with force who now in his old age, remembers that in his school days "Thanatopsis" was a common exercise in declamation

DEMAGOGUES AND THE ARMY

By the demagogues of the present congress no measure has been pursued with so much persistence as that of reducing the regular army This has been done in the face of the fact that there are continued calls for troops from widely distant parts of the country and the present force is notoriously inadequate for the requirements of the service Even while soldiers have been pursuing murderous Indians through the mountain fastnesses and over the burning plains of the great interior congress has withheld appropriations for their pay and weeks of time which should have been devoted to measures demanded by the public welfare have been spent in contending for schemes to cut down the army below limits now too small for the wants of the country Members from [illegible] districts are foremost in these efforts hoping to placate the mob and secure their votes by doing as much as possible to put the army in such condition that it will be able no more to quell riotous and incendiary uprisings Caution has compelled the assent of many who otherwise would have opposed this course and the house at a time when the country needs an army of 40 000 men and troops cannot be had to defend our frontier settlements votes to reduce the army from 25 000 to 20 000 The testimony of army officers though enforced by the experience of the country during the Indian wars of this past year has been scouted Demagogy has had its way It is now to be hoped that continued experience arising from the new Indian wars on our hands will induce the senate to stand firm against any further reduction

Washington correspondence of the New York Herald expresses a belief that the unseen hand that prompted the action of the Potter committee was the hand of Mr Tilden It is stated that southern members were driven to vote for it by the newspapers of their districts which all at once came out for it and threatened [illegible] that [illegible] would be turned [illegible] who dared to oppose it This way of working through newspapers is one of Tilden's stealthy methods The representatives knew that the public mind in their districts was not excited on the subject and the natural supposition is that the newspapers were prompted to this sudden and simultaneous outburst by an unseen hand It is very suggestive of the hand of Tilden He does things that way

A new instrument to magnify sound is called the microphone The apparatus is a very simple one By means of it sounds too faint ever to have been heard by human ears may be raised to any degree of loudness We are told that a feather's edge brushed over the sounding board of this instrument has been made to crash painfully on the ears of listeners It is claimed that the discovery which is attributed to a scientist of London will bring the telephone to perfection since the difficulty of obtaining through it the full volume of sound desired was its only defect

The Vote on Governor

CITY.

MUSICAL SOCIETY ORGANIZED.—About fifty persons, among whom were the best vocalists of the city, assembled last evening at [illegible] popular hall and organized a musical society to be called the Handel and Hadyn Musical Society of Portland. Mr P C Schuyler was elected president, G E Withington secretary and treasurer, M O Lownsdale, [illegible] and Edward Failing directors, [illegible] librarian and W H Kinross conductor. After the business of organizing the society was completed, it was voted unanimously by all who took part in the May festival and in the concert at New Market theater previous to that to give a grand orchestral and choral concert soon as a compliment to Mr Kinross. The organization of the society should be a matter of congratulation to every lover of music in Portland. It is what has been needed for years. The benefit proposed for Mr Kinross, while a compliment in itself to that gentleman is no more than a matter of justice and will doubtless be a grand affair. Excellent music after the style of that produced at the former concert, will be given. It will probably take place on the 20th inst.

PORTLAND CRICKET CLUB.—There was a large and enthusiastic meeting of the cricket club last evening, and an eleven was chosen to play the Victorians on the 4th of July, which we feel satisfied will give a good account of themselves. Committees were appointed for the reception of the guests, etc., and E. W. H. Creighton was elected captain and [illegible] Nelson umpire. We believe that this is the first time that a foreign club has been invited to visit our city and feel satisfied that our people will extend to them a hearty welcome. There has been a false impression abroad that the club intended changing the location of their grounds. Such is not the case. The game will be played on the old grounds at South Portland.

A DEAD LOCK.—Matters relating to the school house which the school district proposes to build during the present summer are at a standstill, and appearances indicate that the building will not be completed in time for occupation at the close of the summer vacation—about September 1st. Mr C H Lewis, who manages the sale of the Harker block, which a meeting of taxpayers authorized the directors to purchase, is in New York City and may not return for some weeks. The schools at present are crammed to a great extent of their proper capacity, and it is a misfortune that the proposed building cannot be got up in time to relieve them next year.

NEARLY DROWNED.—Yesterday forenoon a little boy named Chrissy Bates, aged about [illegible], came near being drowned while bathing with some little companions on the flats near the water hoisting works above the city. The little chaps were unable to swim but believing in the old maxim which says "Never go near the water till you can swim" they were splashing about in a shallow part of the flat. Chrissy ventured too far over his head and would undoubtedly have been drowned had not a taller boy waded out, at the risk of his own life, and brought him to the shore.

AN OLD CUSTOM ABOLISHED.—Ever since the days when Portland was a village the arrival of a steamship from San Francisco or the port has been announced by the booming of a cannon, and the "steamer gun" has always been the signal for coaches, drays, express wagons, men, women and small boys to rush in frantic haste to the O S S Co's dock. Portland has become so populous that the crowd drawn by the signal gun is an annoyance to passengers and persons having business at the dock, and an order has been issued abolishing the custom.

THE ANNUAL REUNION.—The first reunion of the graduates of the Portland High School will be held on the day following the graduating or commencement exercises of that institution. Mr. Charles B. Cardinell of the class of '77, will deliver the oration and Mr [illegible] H. Janeway, of '76, the alumni historian, will read a chapter of the chronicles. The interesting exercises are on the programme. The reunions will hereafter be held annually.

WASHINGTON GUARD BAND.—The Portland Band comes out in an ad to-day announcing a change of name. It will be hereafter known as the Washington Guard Band. The roll of membership will be as follows: [illegible] Bray, Thos. H. Parrott, J H Roos, [illegible] Peterson, Briggs Peterson, W [illegible], D. Halpruner, Russ Austin, John [illegible], A. J. McCue, Thos. Parrott Jr, Henry [illegible] Williams, W. E. Evans.

A GOODLY AMOUNT OF WATER.—The sprinkling wagons in use on the streets this year hold about 600 gallons of water, which is furnished by the Water Company at the extremely low rate of 25 cents per load. There are five sprinklers constantly employed, and each discharge about ten times per day. It will be seen from this that 16,000 gallons of water are poured each day on the two principal streets in the city.

[illegible] OFF.—About a week ago we published a dispatch which stated in effect that a resident on the Oregon shore at the Cascades had seen a small boat containing four men drift into the rapids where they were certainly drowned. A gentleman from there informs us that the supposed boat proved to be a large log, and its unfortunate occupants four fragments of limbs. A tragic affair spoiled.

THE OLD LIBRARY BUILDING.—The rear part of the old cathedral building has been attached to the Catholic library building on [illegible] street, near Third, and the old bell tower has been mounted upon it, much improving its appearance and increasing its usefulness. The upper room will be used as a place of meeting for public worship until the new cathedral is completed.

OREGON HORSES FOR THE ISLANDS.—The barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg, which sailed a day or two ago for the Sandwich Islands, carried away the handsome span of gray horses which have been driven for some time by Mr. G. O. Bailey, in his grocery express. They were purchased by a wealthy gentleman of Honolulu, and will be employed in his private carriage.

THE H. B. S. PICNIC.—At a recent meeting of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society, held in their hall, the following gentlemen were appointed as a committee to perfect arrangements for a grand picnic on July 4th: Thomas Kearney, James Wilson, Daniel McCarty, [illegible] McCullough, James Kenely. The Washington Guard brass and string band has been engaged.

CHURCH CONCERT.—The choir of the Congregational church will give a concert and literary entertainment in the church building on the 20th inst., or thereabouts. The proceeds will be added to the organ fund. Several of the best singers in the city have volunteered their services for the occasion, and an entertainment rarely excelled may be anticipated.

OVER THE HILL TO THE POOR HOUSE.—The members of the grand jury now in session went out to the county poor farm yesterday and spent some time in examining the buildings, grounds and accounts. Their views relating to the management and condition of the place will be promulgated in their regular report, which will be made in a few days.

PICNIC.—The Presbyterian Sunday school picnic, announced for Saturday next is postponed one week (to Saturday June 22d) at which time they will be joined by the Congregational and Plymouth Sunday schools and proceed with the steamer [illegible] to [illegible] on Lewis river W T. An invitation is also extended to the Sunday school in [illegible] in addition.

GERMAN CHURCH FAIR.—A chance for the ladies to attend the German church fair will be offered. Many of the ladies cannot attend the fair in the evening, yet many of the articles can be appreciated and bought only by ladies. Therefore, as an accommodation to them, the fair will be opened this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THE NEW CATHEDRAL.—Workmen commenced digging the foundation trenches for the new cathedral on Tuesday morning. Messrs Drew & Partridge have the contract. The stone foundation will be commenced next week. Messrs [illegible] & Ballantyne have received the contract to furnish the cut stone.

STAGE ROBBERY.—Geo. A. Steel, [illegible] agent, received a dispatch yesterday stating that the stage conveying the [illegible] mail was stopped on the Siskiyou mountains on Tuesday night and robbed of the mail bags and Wells, Fargo & Co's mail box. Mr S[illegible] telegraphed [illegible].

[illegible]

RUNAWAY.—A runaway occurred at [illegible] Portland yesterday. Mr Koran, the proprietor of the hotel on that side, went out [illegible] and his horse became frightened and ran away, smashing the buggy [illegible] though he was not injured.

FIREWORKS.—The gentlemen who have the management of the Salem Fourth of July celebration have ordered $500 worth of fireworks from Geo. Hughes of this city and he is now engaged in the work of manufacturing them. This assures the success of that department of the affair.

BOARD OF TRADE.—Last night was the regular time for a meeting of the board of trade. A half dozen members assembled and waited for three quarters of an hour, and as a quorum had not arrived by that time the president announced that there would be no meeting.

OREGON CHERRIES.—Major Bell has painted from nature a cluster of red-ripe Oregon cherries. The painting is simply perfect and may be seen in the display window of Morse's Palace of Art. The cherries which served for the picture grew in the yard of Hon. [illegible] B. Congle.

FROM THE [illegible].—A dispatch was received at headquarters in this city this evening from Capt Bernard, commanding the troops in the field near [illegible] City, stating that he was unable to make an examination [illegible] of the country because [illegible] to be had.

A CHINESE REPRESENTATIVE.—Rev. Dong Gong, the Chinese missionary, has been elected by the Baptist convention of this city as one of their representatives in the Willamette Baptist Association which will meet at Salem next week.

STONE BUILDING.—The building in course of erection at the corner of A[illegible] and First streets by Mr H C [illegible]onald will be built entirely of handsome gray stone. It will be two stories high and adapted to general business purposes.

ANOTHER PAPER.—Mr Daniel [illegible] of the San Francisco [illegible] is in the city and is thinking of establishing a journal of similar character in this city. He was formerly a resident of Portland.

BOARD OF DELEGATES.—A regular meeting of the board of delegates will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Business of importance will come up for consideration.

POSTPONED.—We are requested to state that the proposed moonlight excursion of the Waverly Social Club is postponed.

A SMART YOUTH.

The following letter was received a few days ago by the postmaster of this city from the office of the assistant postmaster general at Washington:

OREGON CITY, Or. May 14 1878.

Postoffice Department, Washington—Dear Sir: I am just starting in the world with but small means but with hope of increasing these means. I therefore write to ask if you could furnish employment to me in the office at Portland, Oregon, or anywhere else. I would gladly accept a position of the kind or almost any other in the government service. I am not very large, but am well proportioned. Will be 22 years old on the 26th of May 1878. I feel willing to put myself in the way of being useful to society, to government or the nation. I came from Connecticut to Oregon, and can give good reference in that state and in Oregon. Please not drop my letter into the waste basket unheeded or uncared for, but please give me some kind of a return for I may become as great as any of our great men some day, though I have a small beginning. Respectfully yours, ———

P S—Please drop a card if nothing more. Most all of our great men have been poor once. A. Lincoln was.

The letter simply bore the endorsement "Respectfully referred."

AMUSEMENTS.

The Uncle Tom's Cabin company, which has been advertised for the past ten days, opened at New Market Theater last night. The attendance was much better than we expected—the house being well filled. Press of important matter prohibits detailed mention of the players or the piece, and we can only say that the performance was good throughout. The cast is good and all were well up in their parts. Uncle Tom's Cabin is so familiar that comment upon it is unnecessary. The piece will be repeated to-night, and we hope to see a crowded house.

IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE.—Remember the sale of pianos and other musical instruments which takes place at Mr. Hamilton's store on First street this morning at 10 o'clock. There has never been such an opportunity before in Portland to obtain good instruments and the latest issues of popular music under the hammer. Messrs. Creighton & Stearns are the auctioneers.

Masonic literature in immense variety and the latest and best books of the day are advertised by J. K. Gill & Co. Nothing lacking in their stock of stationery or books, wholesale or retail.

Oregon Ahead of the World.

Some of the greatest scientists in exploring the North Pacific Coast have discovered an endless variety of plants in Oregon, which they declare far excel any plants of other countries for the large percentage of medicinal properties they contain. Oregon may well be proud of her advantages over other countries in producing vegetables of so valuable properties. The incomparable climate, abundancy of rain and rich soil is unequalled by any other country. Mr. Wm. Pfunder, an experienced chemist of Portland, has after several years experimenting succeeded in extracting all the medicinal virtues of some of these famous plants and in combining them scientifically with the choicest botanical remedies of other countries produced a preparation which has never been equalled as a purifier of the blood and a general regulator of the system. Any one suffering from diseases that arise from impurities of the blood, irregularities of the liver, bowels and kidneys would do well to try a bottle of this excellent preparation and judge its effective qualities. It has been named the Oregon Blood Purifier, and may be obtained of any dealer in medicine for the reasonable price of one dollar. Principal depot and manufactory Wm. Pfunder & Co., Portland, Oregon, to whom all orders may be addressed.

To the Suffering People of Oregon & W. T.

The cures which have been effected by Doctor Souvielle Mathieu, the eminent French Physician, with his celebrated Paris Spirometer, have proved a wonderful blessing to mankind, and a credit to the Dr. as its inventor in every case of nasal catarrh, lung and bronchial affections and all diseases arising from impurities of the blood. It will effect a complete and speedy cure by conveying medicated inhalations direct to the seat of the disease, which is the only way by which these diseases can be cured. Parents especially should never be without one of these invaluable instruments, for on administering them twice a day your children will never have diphtheria or any disease [illegible] from poison in the blood, but will grow up healthy and strong. The Paris spirometer will be sold at the remarkable low price of $[illegible], which will include all medicines and complete directions, and will be sent to any address on receipt of the money by letter or express to DR. SOUVIELLE MATHIEU, St. Charles Hotel, Portland, Oregon.

Office hours 10 to 12 M and 2 to 4 P M. Consultation free. The doctor's medicated inhalation is approved by the state medical board of California, San Francisco, Dec. 13th, 1877, and recorded in the office of the county clerk of San Francisco, Dec. 15th, 1877, by Thomas H. Reynolds, County Clerk. [illegible]

LETTER FROM SALEM

SALEM, June 1[illegible], 1878.

This afternoon the large and handsome [illegible] University chapel was crowded to repletion, the occasion being the commencement concert of vocal and instrumental music to be given by the graduating class. Two o'clock was the designated hour for the exhibition, [illegible] that time every available seat was occupied. Shortly after [illegible] Mattie by the Misses M[illegible] and [illegible] Miss [illegible] Gray and [illegible] [illegible] Miss Eliza Byrd [illegible] Miss Byrd [illegible] Miss Willoughby [illegible] Miss Ella Byrd, Miss Allie Sc[illegible], Miss N[illegible] and Miss [illegible] Willoughby. [illegible] were also given [illegible] M[illegible] Nary and Miss [illegible] [illegible] and the large audience was dismissed. In justice to these young ladies it must be said that they acquitted themselves [illegible]. The proficiency they have acquired in the study of music must be a source of great [illegible] to [illegible] efficiency of the musical preceptress, Mrs. W. [illegible] Allen.

MEDICAL COMMENCEMENT.

The annual commencement exercises of the medical department of the Willamette University came off this evening in the [illegible] chapel. The capacious auditorium was [illegible] to its capacity, and the occasion was one of much interest. Promptly at 8 o'clock the medical faculty [illegible] [illegible] the rostrum. [illegible]

[illegible] medical science has been cultivated [illegible]

The doctor said that in this the second century of our country [illegible] would not be out of place to note some of the men [illegible] in the lives of [illegible] physicians of our country. Among them we find men who laid down their lives as a sacrifice on their country's altar. It was a physician—Samuel Prescott—who in the early history of the revolution, when the British were marching on Concord, mounted his horse and in a gallop, rivalling that of Paul Revere, reached the town and gave notice of the approach of the enemy. Another example of patriotism was John Brooks, who left his professional pursuits and marched at the head of his command to meet the common foe. History records many examples of medical men who proffered their professional services or engaged as combatants in the war of the revolution. Mention is made of the names of twenty three medical men who were members of the provincial congress of 1774. Dr Sharp said he might occupy his whole time in mentioning medical men who abandoned their private business and served their country in the revolutionary war on the field and in the hospitals. But one more example would suffice—Dr Benjamin Rush—the noblest Roman of them all. After giving his early history he said that in the year 1774 he made the first public attack upon the use of ardent spirits that was made in America. Rush was a signer of the Declaration of Independence under peculiarly honorable circumstances.

Leaving the contemplation of those medical men who had taken part in the political disturbances of their day he turned to a consideration of the scientific attainments of members of the profession. Among the first he mentioned Philip Sing Physick—born July [illegible] 1768, died December 15, 1837. Such indeed is the brief and solemn record of all the sons of the human race. A select few are perpetuated for a while with columns of stone or in statues of marble, whilst others still can say with the poet "exegi monumentum [illegible]," and only those who have by their deeds endeared themselves to their contemporaries can truly say that they have erected monuments more enduring than brass and their names will be handed down from age to age upon the pages of history. Some have been destroyers of mankind and are called conquerors, others have [illegible] the social fabric and nearly all have been the creatures of some lasting ambition. A few, a very few indeed, are remembered for something they have done to improve the condition of their fellow man, to relieve the sufferings of the human race, or to improve the physical, mental or moral condition of their fellows. These men have generally done their work quietly and unobtrusively, always at a great sacrifice of their own comfort and frequently at the risk and sacrifice of their lives. Some are called physicians of the body, others of the mind; all are intent on good works, whether for [illegible] and prevention of pestilence or disease, the substitution of knowledge and refinement for ignorance and barbarism, or of plenty for barrenness. Of this class was Philip Sing Physick, a man who did much to relieve the sufferings of his fellow citizens in his day and generation. Dr. Sharp gave a condensed history of this noted man and recounted his deeds during the [illegible] epidemics which swept over the country. In [illegible] he was described as a man distinguished for his purity of life, gentleness of demeanor and profundity in his profession. Mention was made briefly of such men eminent in the medical profession as Chapman, Dorsey, Fry, Bard, [illegible]. He said they were all distinguished for hard work and [illegible]. These are the men who have attained true greatness.

The small, narrow and sordid man whose ideas are limited to the acquisition of money, [illegible] whose sole object is personal aggrandizement, can never under any circumstances or condition expect to attain even moderate eminence in his profession. His heart is too small, his calibre too contracted [illegible] enlarged ideas; he is incapable of having that greatest [illegible]. When a man has high aspirations of that kind [illegible]

THE ADMINISTRATION

ITS [illegible] A [illegible] WITH ITS BREAKING [illegible] WARFARE [illegible]

[Mary [illegible] New York Independent

You [illegible] the [illegible] try may [illegible] sure [illegible] thing that the [illegible] [illegible] administration [illegible] no longer fail on the [illegible] ple and you are sure [illegible] you [illegible] is [illegible] believes thoroughly in [illegible] in the Lord [illegible] of his life he is [illegible] four chiefly [illegible] is that while [illegible] policy [illegible] wards or even [illegible] the artful [illegible] saints of this world [illegible] daily [illegible] atmosphere [illegible] healthful He does not have [illegible] treatment for [illegible] much strong drink He is not [illegible] nor saturated with tobacco [illegible] to the society of the vulgar men The men who surround him as his immediate advisers are men conspicuously at [illegible] sonally it would be difficult to find a company of men of [illegible] larger capacity than the country may [illegible] Evarts McCrary [illegible] Key Could you honestly [illegible] know the difference in the [illegible] one department—that of the navy—[illegible] present secretary and that of his predecessor you would begin to have some hope of the administration of the government of the nation From beginning to end Robeson's career in the navy was one of plunder While the routine of its offices was carried on by officers of unblemished honor its vast contracts were sold by its chief in shameless jobbery out of which he and his pals gathered in in a few short years enormous profits The war department was served but little better The government of the United States sank to a thing of the most shameless traffic and profit, while, save with some exceptions reckless extravagance, impinging often on official honor marked the fashionable displays of official social life

The carping cry against Carl Schurz in the cabinet is an old acquaintance of mine I became intimately acquainted with it years ago in the senate, when the very same men shook their fists in the face of not only Carl Schurz, but in that of Charles Sumner What is the matter with Carl Schurz? He was born in Prussia And pray was he not as fortunate in being born there as if he had been born in the state of Vermont or even that of New York? Vermont did not strain its energies much in giving birth to Timothy Howe even though he sneers at Carl Schurz for being born in such a little country as Prussia It was not small enough to cramp the energies of this particular son He is one of the most accomplished men one of the most industrious one of the truest to what he believes to be true Since he entered the interior department he has worked by day and by night to serve it and no one who tells the truth can say that his work and his service is not of the most practical sort Even the story that he was not the friend of women in civil service has fallen to the ground because he has proved himself in his department the best of friends to the best of women What is the matter with the man? Why Howe and Conkling came to hate him when he stood by Sumner's side and with polished eloquence helped him fight his battles That is one of the many reasons why he must not be in the cabinet why Conkling sneers at him in private and Howe howls at him in public.

Origin of Horace Greeley's "Go West, Young Man"

[Chicago Correspondence of the Troy Times]

In 1851 Joseph Medill the veteran editor of the Chicago Tribune wrote to Horace Greeley from his then home in Cleveland O inquiring whether there might be a chance for him to secure a position upon the editorial staff of the New York Tribune The reply was a decided negative, coupled with that original memorable advice "Go West young man! Go West." This is the real origin of that now famous and historical expression and, naturally enough Mr Medill preserves the letter with special care He did go West built up the Chicago Tribune and has acquired material wealth as well as journalistic honors

Clover as a Fertilizer

At a recent farmers institute at Ithaca New York, while the question of sowing grass was under discussion, Col Brewer said I sow clover seed about the 1st of April and have never had a failure either from frost or drouth. I regard clover as our best and cheapest fertilizer. Clover should be mowed before the sod is turned over The stalks are of but little value as manure, and in light, sandy soil they work positive injury The principal fertilizing properties of the plant reside in the root A good clover sod will furnish enough plant food for two crops of wheat in succession on most soils I don't think a farmer can afford to purchase fertilizers unless his sod is too poor to raise clover I keep my land in good condition with clover alone

Springfield Republican 'Jennie what makes you such a bad girl?' Well mamma, God sent you just the best children he could find, and if they don't suit you I can't help it"

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Financial.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, June 12 1878

Gold in New York 101

Legal tenders in Portland—buying 99¼ selling par

Silver coin, 2@3 per cent. discount.

The local money market is quiet and with about the usual demand for accommodations the supply is still reported rather in excess of the season's requirements so far Rates on loans and discounts on commercial paper remain at former quotations without any tendency to relaxation of the prevailing firmness it being anticipated that the call from the wheat crop movement will make up in volume what the demand from the salmon and wool trade has fallen short

The bill repealing the bankrupt law is received by mail It goes into effect September 1 1878 This gives all who feel the necessity of going into bankruptcy and all creditors who wish to secure what they can from doubtful debtors nearly three months to enjoy the benefit of the present law The bankrupt law has doubtless been abused But some kind of a general jail delivery is thought to be necessary about one year in every dozen Under the law of Moses every unfortunate returned to the inheritance of the family and tribe every fiftieth year The present generation living four times as 'fast' as those ancient people require one year at least in every dozen a law for a new start in the pecuniary race

PORTLAND OREGON

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for his great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

DR BRENAN

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door
